Flag Dedication Ceremonies At Waveland Tues.

An American flag presented to the mother of Hayward Bourgeois after his recent funeral was dedicated and "The Student Prints" was distributed in ceremonies conducted by the Americanism Committee of the local Academy in ceremonies held Tuesday.

Dedication ceremonies were held Tuesday, Oct. 20 on the grounds in front of the school. The entire Waveland School student body attended the ceremonies. The actual raising of the flag was done by Clyde Bourgeois, Vital Bourgeois, Laurence Noto and Tedro Noto, all students at Waveland School. After the playing of the National Anthem the entire school and all present recited the "Pledge of Allegiance."

"Knowledge of the complete Pledge of Allegiance by all the students, large and small, was noted by everyone attending the ceremonies," said Americanism Committee Chairman Fred E. Ray. "Much credit is due the faculty of the school for this fine show of Americanism," he added.

General Louis F. Guerre was in charge of the Dedication Ceremonies. Invocation was made by Morgan C. Atwood, Chaplain of the Clement R. Bontemps Post.

Waveland School Board Officials, County Officials, Waveland citizens and members of the Legion Auxiliary were present at the ceremonies.

Miss Mary Perkins, principal, expressed appreciation to the Legion Committee as well to Mrs. Bourgeois for her generosity in giving the flag to the school.

Numerous Festivities Planned Stanislaus Homecoming Sunday

St. Stanislaus Academy will celebrate its annual Homecoming Sunday with a variety of activities at the school and in the community.

The game will be preceded by a parade from the Campus beginning at 1:30. Teddy Brechman of Class 1953 and a member of the St. Stanislaus Sideline Club has been appointed chairman of the parade and of the rally which will take place between 8 and 9 p.m. The queen of the Homecoming, Miss Mary Ann Blanchard, and her maids will be introduced at the rally and will take an active part in the halftime proceedings.

All members of the St. Stanislaus Club and parents of the boys have been invited to participate in the homecoming Sunday. Following the game which will be held at the St. Stanislaus gymnasium, a social will be held.

In the morning Mass will be celebrated in the school chapel at 10:15 by Rev. Sherman Cobb, OSB, a member of Class 1933. Following the Mass there will be a meeting of the Alumni Association in the Senior Study Hall for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year and to discuss other business, especially a program pertaining to the forthcoming celebration of the Centennial of Saint Stanislaus, 1854-1954.

A cold plate-luncheon will be served all visitors in the Student Dining Hall promptly at noon, or as early as the students have vacated the dining hall. A student dance in the gymnasium at 8 p.m. will close the festivities of the day.

The Rockachaws have not been doing so well this season due to a variety of causes, the principal of which have been injuries and a failure to hold the ball going through the line. In other words, fumbles have been the downfall even more than the absence of injured players.

Coach Day is expecting many of the players to be at service on Sunday against Reserve. Maurice Artigue, who was hurt last week against the Cavaliers, is not expected to be able to put in an appearance against the boys from Godchaux High of Reserve Sunday afternoon.

Only thing the Lions are hoping to make it a bigger and perhaps a better parade.

And there will be hot dogs, soft drinks, coffee and doughnuts—all priced very reasonably because the Lions are holding to their cost on all sandwiches, hot dogs, or drinks. And there will be games and contests, too.

Next Little Theatre Production Nov. 5

BY JOHANN CRAFT

"Blithe Spirit," the next play to be presented by the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre is under the capable direction of Drury Blair.

Production scheduled for November 5th, 6th and 7th. Rehearsals are up to schedule and the show is making great progress.

"Blithe Spirit," by Noel Coward has an ingenious plot. It involves a novelist, Charles Condomine, who invites an eccentric lady medium to his home in order to learn the language of the occult. Little does Ruth dream that a lovely second wife of the medium will appear at the seance staged by the medium to summon back Charles' first wife. Although his first wife "passed over" seven years hence, her return through the medium presents her still beautiful, still mischievous and bent on torturing Charles by reminding him of their nights and days together.

The first wife has a plan. If she can get Charles into an automobile accident and make a ghost of him, life in the spirit world will have more appeal for her. Mistakes occur, however, and it is Ruth who takes the fatal automobile ride, passes on, only to return with the first wife. How Charles manages to extricate himself from these two very blithe spirits makes an hilarious conclusion to this very unusual farce.

The cast has been working enthusiastically and the play has been making remarkable progress. Charles is portrayed by Philip Allison, Madame Ascat by Adeline Samuel. Ruth, the second wife by Pat Eastman Barron, and Elvira by Barbara Quigley. Dr. Bert Quigley plays Dr. Bradman, Glenn Fayard is Mrs. Bradman, and Elsie Grimes plays Edith.

The Little Theatre selected "Blithe Spirit" with great consideration as it still production for the 1953 season. It has everything necessary to fulfill an old theatrical adage—"leave 'em laughing."

Production dates . . . November 5th, 6th and 7th, at the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, Boardman Ave. Curtain at 8:15 p.m. The general public is invited.

MEMBER DRIVE HOT AS $200 PISTOL SAYS LOCAL LEGION

An executive of the National American Legion organization, referring to the local Post's membership drive said recently, "You are indeed 'hotter' than a two dollar pistol." Within the last few days the membership committee of the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139 is showing just how hot a "two dollar pistol" can be.

Tom Brenner, chairman of the committee, announced that the drive has passed the two hundred mark and shows no sign of a slow-down.

"People are not anxious to throw away four dollars any more," he said, "but four dollars seems to be a bargain price to affiliate with a 'go-getting' outfit. The large number of new members and re-joiners are proving this."

"The Real activity of the local Post is credited as a major reason for the upsurge of brand-new members," Brenner continued. "Veterans of the community feel it is an honor to join an organization that 'does things.'"

Regular members are urged to get their dues in to the committee so that the members of the committee can "get hot" in other Legion activities.

Turkey Shoots Says American Legion

The Committee in Charge of the Annual "Turkey Shoot" sponsored by the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139 will have the public to know the prize within the hour by giving the prize the year will again be Turkey. The high prize and variety of prizes in this locality seems to have prompted a rumor that Prize awarded would be "Boat!"

Prizes are high but in spite of this the committee felt the prize should remain the same as in previous years. This will of course result in a small amount of proceeds unless a greater attendance is promoted. Chairman of the Turkey Shoot, D. N. Redhead, said that prizes will be given to the winners of the Turkey Shoot. The prize is limited to steady shooters. There is no limit on the number of shots for one or more of the Turkey Shoot.

No proceeds from the Turkey Shoot will be used to provide prizes for the Turkey Shoot. The prize will be given to the winners of the Turkey Shoot. The prize is limited to steady shooters. There is no limit on the number of shots for one or more of the Turkey Shoot.

Not content with a dream, these two enterprising young men soon evoked the interest of others and it was not long before a bank was opened. It took some business acumen to handle and make a financial success of the venture, but they were both capable of the job.

Walter J. Gex Sr. was the young attorney and Charles G. Morgan the owner and editor of the Sun Coast Echo.

Later moved to Bay St. Louis, where as a lad he attended St. Stanislaus College later graduating in law from the University of Mississippi, and rapidly rising to the peak of his profession.

A keen businessman, as well as one of the most respected attorneys in the State, he was known throughout Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama and Florida where he held extensive business interests.

At one time a law partner of Senator Pat Harrison he was well known in Washington. He was also a partner of Judge C. L. Wylie, who was a member of the US Circuit Court of Appeals, Fifth District.

Gex had one of the keenest and most acute minds of his time, and although he was repeatedly urged to accept the post of President of the Merchants Bank, he preferred to remain a background figure. It is an established fact that his astuteness and unselfish interests were directly responsible for the prosperity of this institution during the early days of its growth, and later during the darkest days in the financial history of America.

It was mainly his advice and guidance of the bank that stimulated depositors during the depression of 1932. Married to Amanda Von Gohren, the couple had five children. Two sons, Walter J. Gex Jr. and Lucien M. Phillips, Mrs. Stella Gex, and Miss Ethel H. Gex. The present law firm of Gex and Gex is comprised of the two brothers, Walter Jr. and Lucien, and their sister, Ethel, an associate.

Walter J. Gex Sr. passed on to his children the heritage of fine minds and imbued in them the duty of their responsibility to maintain for the people of the community which he loved so well the same security that he had striven to give during his lifetime.

His untimely death at the age of 39 occurred in the year 1937. The loss of such a man could well have been a death blow to the bank and to his many other interests, but so well had he trained and instilled his knowledge to those who succeeded him, that the business established by him has continued in growth and prosperity.

Charles G. Morgan the other young man of this story was a newspaperman. Born in New Orleans, where he attended public and parochial schools, he was graduated from St. Mary's. His family moved to Bay St. Louis in 1889, and he remained here until his death in 1941. Married to Angelina A. Picolage, they had one child, a daughter Marie Louise, whose death during the influenza epidemic of 1918 was a shock that neither mother nor father ever fully recovered from.

Young Morgan first began his newspaper career in Bay St. Louis, as a local correspondent for city newspapers. Several years later he founded the "Sun Coast Echo," a weekly newspaper which celebrated its Golden Anniversary the year of his death. His success as a newspaperman was due to his keen evaluation of news and his courteous manner in dealing with his readers.

A member of the original Board of Directors of the bank which was half his dream child, Morgan became President in 1932 and remained in that position until his death.

For fifty years he was a member of the Mississippi Press Association. Never taking an active part in politics, he nevertheless was awarded many honorary positions, and his influence, both through the press and the bank, is greatly responsible for much of the present growth and prosperity of the community.

Walter J. Gex Sr. and Charles G. Morgan, two young men who dreamed, two men who guided, two men who inspired, for youth of today. With their ability and determination they created from the ground up a dream as institution to serve and benefit a community.

LIONS CLUB HEARS SALVATION ARMY REPRESENTATIVE

The Bay St. Louis Lions Club, at their first October meeting at Hotel Reed, heard a talk by Lt. Walter Finkler, Commanding Officer of the Gulfport Salvation Army Corps. The Gulfport unit covers the entire Coast from Poydras to Passcouver.

Finkler outlined to the Lions the general program of the Salvation Army, and told of the many practical activities of the Army's responsibility to take care of the unfortunate.

The young officer spoke about the 1,039 men and women that had been given food and shelter during 1932 at the local shelter; of the Family Welfare program, which furnished over 10,000 pieces of clothing and furniture to needy people. The Lieutenant also told of the religious services, the young people's work, the Girl Guards, and the new band being organized in Gulfport.

The Army officer thanked the Lions for sponsoring the 1933 Hancock County fund drive and hoped that it would be a successful one.

Special guest of the Lions was District Governor George Noe of Pascagoula, head of Mississippi District 30-32. Lion Noe praised the local club for their progress, and called on each individual Lion to be loyal to their club and club duties.

New members present were Dr. Walruso, George Shadoin and George Heitzmann. Lion President Parks reported on the condition of Lion John Seaford, and the small improvement was noted with satisfaction. Lions were to journey to New Orleans Tuesday and Wednesday nights for blood donations.

Lion Parks stressed the need of much more blood for Mayor Seaford, and possibly for Arthur Miller, hospitalized in Gulfport. Any citizen wishing to donate blood at New Orleans are asked to contact Cliff Parks at 838, and details and transportation will be arranged. Lion Seaford has had 17 transfusions as of Tuesday, Parks said, and many more are anticipated. The Lions donors are following up the many donations made last week through the American Legion.

The next club meeting is scheduled for Oct. 25.

Miss Winifred W. Deuchert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Deuchert of Metairie and La. James C. McDonald, USAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McDonald, Bay St. Louis, were married at 7:30 p. m. Saturday Oct. 10, at Metairie Memorial Methodist Church in Metairie. The Rev. Dean Dawson Jr. officiated.

The church was beautifully decorated with tall baskets of cream gladioli on each side of the altar, which was backed with palms and candlesticks holding cathedral tapers in an ivory shade.

There was a special program of music during the ceremony, arranged by Mrs. Ernest Harber. Mrs. Earl Schaefer sang "The Sweetest Berry Ever Told." "O Promise Me" and during the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of midnight satin made with fitted bodice and full skirt with a short train. A Juliet cap of satin held a finger tip veil of illusion in place. She carried a spray bouquet of cymbidium orchids in tones of cream and brown which further enhanced the exquisite shade of the bridal gown.

Mrs. B. M. Dodge, a cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. Her little daughter Cody Dodge was flower girl. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Kittrell of Detroit, Mich., a cousin of the groom, and Miss Geraldine Ochilpant.

The bridesmaids wore dresses of pale green taffeta, made with fitted bodices, off shoulder neckline, and bouffant skirts. The matron of honor wore the same styled dress but in a deeper shade of green. They all carried bouquets of roses.

The groom, chose as his best man David McDonald, and as his groomsmen Fred S. McDonald and C. C. McDonald Jr., all brothers of his. Ushers were J. A. Evans Jr. and M. B. Dodge.

The mother of the bride wore old rose taffeta with bodice trimmed with white lace and a white orchid. The groom's mother wore turquoise blue lace and nylon marquisette, with a white orchid worn at the waist. Mrs. W. A. McDonald, grandmother of the groom, wore grey lace and crepe with a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held in the community hall of the Church following the ceremony. Members of the receiving line stood in front of tall baskets holding gladioli and ferns.

The bride's table was exquisite with an embroidered, cut work linen cloth on which was placed the three tiered wedding cake. The cake was done in the same warm white as the bride's gown, and was trimmed with white roses. On the other end of the table was placed the punch bowl.

The young couple left on a wedding trip to Florida and will return to Hunter Air Force Base, Savannah, Ga. early in November.

Mr. McDonald had just completed a tour of duty in the Far East and returned to the States the week preceding his marriage.

Next Little Theatre Production Nov. 5

BY JOHANN CRAFT

"Blithe Spirit," the next play to be presented by the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre is under the capable direction of Drury Blair.

Production scheduled for November 5th, 6th and 7th. Rehearsals are up to schedule and the show is making great progress.

"Blithe Spirit," by Noel Coward has an ingenious plot. It involves a novelist, Charles Condomine, who invites an eccentric lady medium to his home in order to learn the language of the occult.

Little does Charles or his lovely second wife Ruth dream that the medium staged by the medium will summon back Charles' first wife. Although his first wife "passed over" seven years hence, her return through the medium presents her still beautiful, still mischievous and bent on torturing Charles by reminding him of their nights and days together.

The first wife has a plan. If she can get Charles into an automobile accident and make a ghost of him, life in the spirit world will have more appeal for her. Mistakes occur, however, and it is Ruth who takes the fatal automobile ride, passes on, only to return with the first wife.

Charles manages to extricate himself from these two very blithe spirits in a hilarious conclusion to this very unusual farce.

The cast has been working enthusiastically and the play has been making remarkable progress. Charles is portrayed by Philip Allison, Madame Arcati by Adeline Samuel. Ruth, the second wife by Barbara Quigley.

Dr. Bert Quigley plays Dr. Bradman, Glenn Fayard is Mrs. Bradman, and Elsie Granat plays Edith.

The Little Theatre selected "Blithe Spirit" with great consideration as its last production for the 1963 season. It has everything necessary to fulfill an old theatrical adage—"leave 'em laughing."

Production dates . . . November 5th, 6th and 7th, at the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, Boardman Ave. Curtain at 8:15 p. m. The general public is invited.

GLADYS JONES DIES FOLLOWING HEART ATTACK IN N. O.

Gladys Bartlett Jones, former resident of Bay St. Louis, died suddenly of a heart attack about 2 a. m. Wednesday at her home in New Orleans.

Mrs. Jones was employed at A. L. Low Art Supplies in New Orleans, where she had lived since leaving Bay St. Louis two years ago.

She was the founder of the Blue Bottle Art Studio, formerly located on de Montau Ave. where the Presbyterian Church now is. She worked diligently to promote art appreciation on the Gulf Coast and was an active member of the Gulf Coast Art Association.

In addition to her interest in art, she was an active member of the local Little Theatre. An excellent character actress, she also was at one time art director of the theatre, and designed sets for many plays.

Funeral services were held from P. J. McMahon Funeral Home of Canal St. in New Orleans at 11 a. m. today, with interment in Hope Mausoleum.

MEMBER DRIVE HOT AS $2.00 PISTOL SAYS LOCAL LEGION

An executive of the National American Legion organization, referring to the local Post's membership drive said recently, "You are indeed 'hotter' than a two dollar pistol." Within the last few days the membership committee of the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139 is showing just how hot a "two dollar pistol" can be.

Tom Bressler, chairman of the committee, announced that the drive has passed the two hundred mark and shows no sign of a slow-down. "People are not anxious to throw away four dollars any more," he said, "but four dollars seems to be a bargain price to affiliate with a 'go-getting' outfit. The large number of new members and re-joiners are proving this."

"The Real activity of the local Post is credited as a major reason for the upsurge of brand-new members," Bressler continued. Veterans of the community feel it is an honor to join an organization that "does things."

Regular members are urged to get their dues in to the committee so that the members of the committee can "get hot" in other Legion activities.

HEBER LADNER TO ADDRESS LWV HERE ON OCTOBER 29

Residents of Bay St. Louis will have an opportunity to hear one of the leading political figures of the state on the evening of October 29 when the Honorable Heber Ladner, Secretary of State, will speak at a general meeting of the League of Women Voters of Bay St. Louis. Mr. Ladner's topic will be "Registration," a subject of particularly timely interest at this time, since Bay St. Louis is preparing new registration rolls.

The meeting will be held at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club and the public is cordially invited to attend. Mr. Ladner will speak at 8 p. m.

HARVEST BALL SET FOR SATURDAY

The Annual "Harvest Ball" held jointly by Clement R. Bontemps Post 139 and the Legion Auxiliary will take place Saturday night Oct. 26. Dancing will be continuous. Buffet supper will be continuous. The ball starts at 8 p. m.

Each member of the Legion or Auxiliary will be allowed to bring two guests. Only married or guests will be allowed to attend.

In the past the proceeds from the ball have been used to buy Christmas gifts for veterans at VA hospitals in Gulfport and Biloxi. The increasing popularity and attendance each year has caused the post to extend the gifts to the VA hospital at Jackson this year.

St. Stanislaus will celebrate its annual Homecoming Sunday Oct. 27 with the football game with Bay High School as the featured attraction of the day. Kickoff is scheduled for 2:30 p. m.

The game will be preceded by a motorcade from the Campus beginning at 1:30. Teddy Stechmann of Class 1929 and a member of the St. Stanislaus Sidelines Club has been appointed chairman of the parade and the rally which will take place Saturday night on the Campus beginning at 8 p. m. The rally of the Homecoming Rally, Mrs. Ann Blanchard and her class will take an active part in the rally proceedings at the gym.

All members of the Sidelines Club and parents of the boys have been invited to participate in the motorcade Sunday preceding the game which will be led by the St. Stanislaus band and two sound trucks.

In the morning Mass will be celebrated in the school chapel at 10:15 by Rev. Sherman Cobb, OSB, a member of Class 1933. Following the Mass there will be a meeting of the Alumni Association in the Senior Study hall for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year and to discuss other business, especially a program leading to the forthcoming celebration of the Centennial of Saint Stanislaus next fall, 1954.

A cold plate-luncheon will be served all students in the Student Dining Hall promptly at noon, or as soon as the students have vacated the dining hall. A student dance in the Gym starting at 8 p. m. will close the festivities of the day.

The Rockchaws have not been doing well this season due to a variety of causes, the principal of which have been injuries and a failure to hold the ball going through the line. In other words, fumbles have been the downfall even more than the absence of injured players.

Coach Day is expecting many of the players to be of service on Sunday against Reserve. Maurice Antigua, who was hurt last week against the Cavaliers, is not expected to be able to put in an appearance against the boys from Godchaux High of Reserve Sunday afternoon.

PTA CONGRESS TO BE HELD HERE FRIDAY, OCT. 30

Bay St. Louis will entertain the District XIV Meeting of the Mississippi Congress of Parents and Teachers on Friday, October 30 at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. About 200 are expected and the program has been streamlined to open at 9:30 and close at 2:15.

There will be very profitable discussions on programs, memberships, publications, parent-education and legislation.

Mrs. W. B. Seely of Pascagoula is President of the district and among the speakers will be several State Board members including Mrs. W. J. Hamilton, Mrs. D. N. Redhead and Mrs. C. C. McDonald. Council officers of Biloxi and Gulfport will also lead some of the discussions.

Bay Central PTA and Christ Church Parish School PTA are hostesses and will serve salad and coffee at the lunch hour to accompany the sandwiches delegates will bring.

Since the meeting falls on a day when several of the local associations have Halloween parties, the program has been shortened to permit all officers and members to return home by mid-afternoon.

District XIV includes all coast counties as well as Pearl River and Stone.

Any member of a local parent-teacher association is welcome to attend.

"Turkey" Shoots Says American Legion

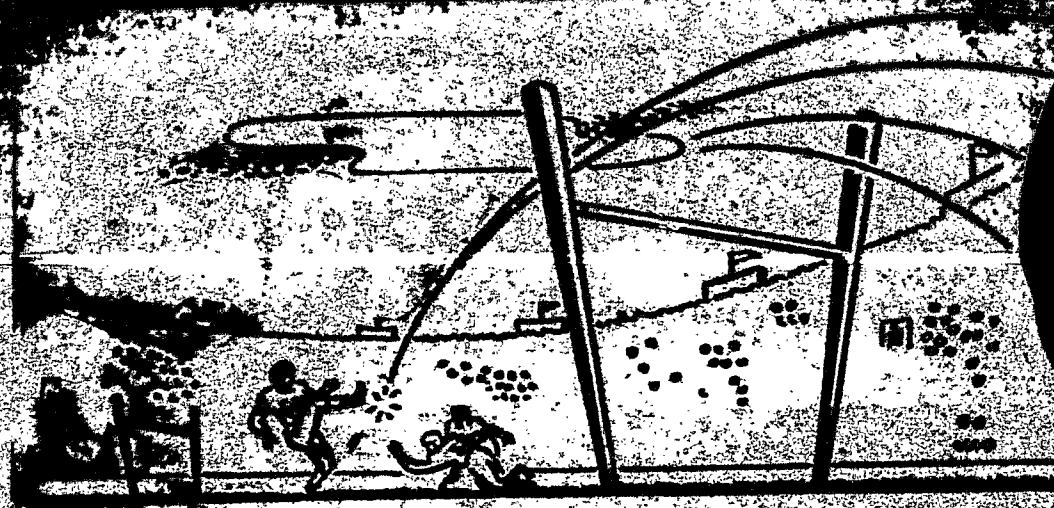

The Committee in Charge of the Annual "Turkey Shoot" sponsored by the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139 wishes the Public to know that prices for the year will again be "Turkey." The high prices and scarcity of Turkeys in this locality seems to have prompted a rumor that Prizes awarded would be "Beef."

Prices are high but in spite of this the committee felt that the prizes should remain the same as in previous years. This will, of course, result in a smaller amount of prizes unless a greater attendance is promoted. Chairman of the committee, Leroy Liles, urged that all Legionnaires attend these "Turkey Shoots."

Invited to attend these "Turkey Shoots" are all members of the Bay St. Louis Post 139 and the Legion Auxiliary. The prizes will be awarded to the member who brings the most Turkeys.

Prizes for the Christmas season will be awarded to the member who brings the most families in Bay St. Louis and Hancock County.

These prizes will start at 2 p. m. Sunday, Oct. 27 at Bay St. Louis and the Drive-In Theatre at Jackson.

The image is a high-contrast, black and white scan of a textured surface. The majority of the frame is filled with dark, grainy noise and speckles. On the left side, there is a prominent, bright white, irregular shape that resembles a torn piece of paper or a large stain. This white shape has a jagged, uneven edge and contains some internal texture. The overall appearance is that of a heavily degraded or damaged document page, possibly a book cover or endpaper, where the original content is almost entirely lost to noise and contrast.

Careful research revealed a list of plants that will tolerate salt water and some brackish water. If you are planning to landscape or improve your garden, consider the following shrubs for their beauty and hardiness.

Pittosporum, Ligustrum, Yucca and Century Plant. Euphorbia, and E. laevis will grow well in this area. Native palm are very good where height is needed. Other shrubs good for protected areas are Bottlebrush, Ilex Vomitoria, Juniper, Oleander, Palms Podocarpus, Bananashrub, Crape

Roses are best planted in late November, December and January. Many of the new varieties are not ready for this area until after the first of the year. In our area, particular attention should be given to the preparation of the soil. Roses DO NOT like sandy soils. Make sandy soils more retentive by adding Peat Moss. Use plenty of manure for both fertility and humus. For a dozen roses, use ten pounds of bonemeal, twenty five pounds of dried manure and some peat moss. In sandy soils double the manure. In alluvial soils omit the bone meal. Add five pounds of superphosphate if necessary. Mulch with pine straw. The pine straw is definitely the finest mulch you can use in this area. Peat moss is good, but not as lasting.

Plant your hardy annuals just before
